

When you're standing still, are you moving?

If the earth moves around the sun, spinning like a top, you are.

Then why don't you feel it?

Hurricane winds of 100 mph topple us. If the earth spins ten times faster, how are you standing?

Because we do not move. The world centers inside each of us. We are each the fixed point of the world. That's the point of objects, and worlds, and each of us. The point of dignity. The center of salvation. That stays with us and stares through us, witness to a
